Centralized security management

SCATI solutions for banking are the result of innovating, evolving and adapting to the requirements of financial institutions, being open and integrable platforms, equipped with the latest in Artificial Intelligence following the strictest standards in the IT and cybersecurity world.

We are talking about complete solutions for intelligent video surveillance and access control, business intelligence (BI) tools and a unique platform for the integration of the different security and automation subsystems. These solutions are composed of all the elements hardware and software elements that may be required, complemented by Big Data and AI tools that take SCATI's value proposition for banks to the next level.

Smart office

Beyond security, the office becomes the priority information collection point. Thanks to the use of A.I. systems, it is possible to obtain information about users and their behaviours to improve the business through heat maps, queue management, people counting, facial recognition, etc.

- Facial recognition
- Heat mapping
- Queue management
- Access control
- Capacity monitoring

SCATI CASH

ATM fraud prevention

Put "eyes" on your ATMs and locate the images of any potentially fraudulent transactions in a matter of seconds, through advanced search filters: date, time, credit card details, etc.

Obtain all the information of interest related to the transaction for subsequent forensic analysis.

Secure the ideal solution for organizations that need to manage the security of multiple locations, with hundreds or even thousands of surveillance cameras, in a fast, simple and reliable way.

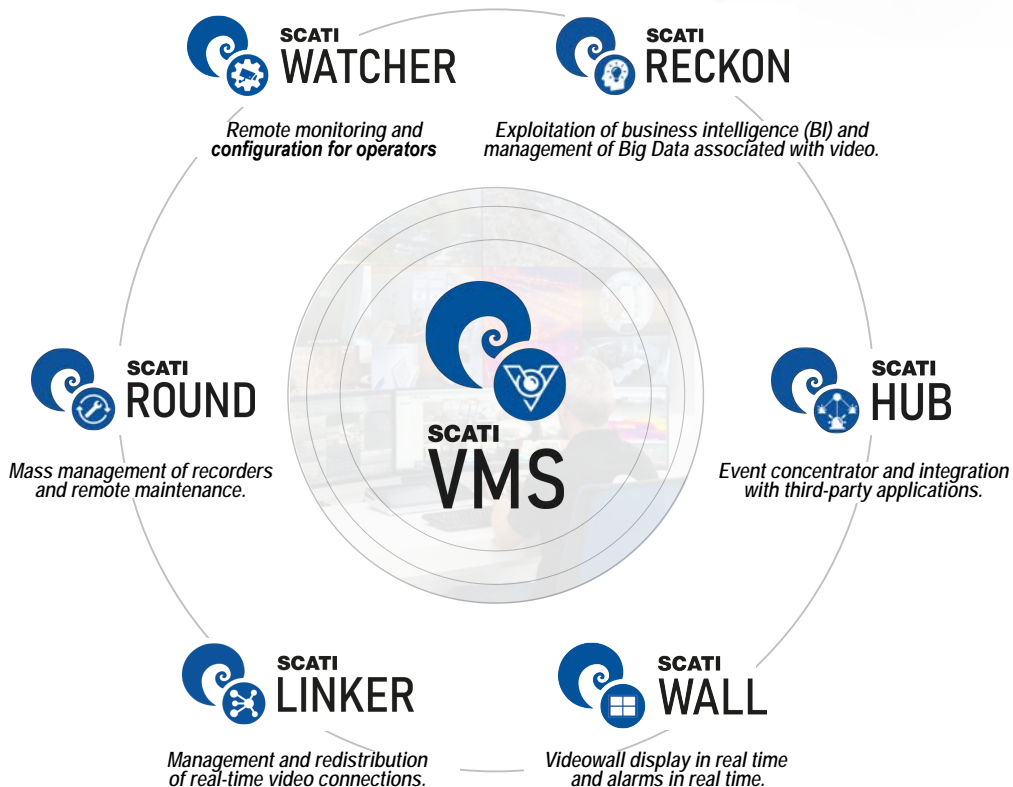

UNIFIED SECURITY MANAGEMENT CONTROL CENTRE

Experience intuitive smart video management

SCATI VMS is a powerful software for remote and centralized management of the video surveillance system. Its multiple functionalities cover all the needs of a professional security operator.

With this tool you can improve coordination between teams, facilitate the collection of forensic evidence and reduce operational costs associated with the security area. Work smarter and with less effort.

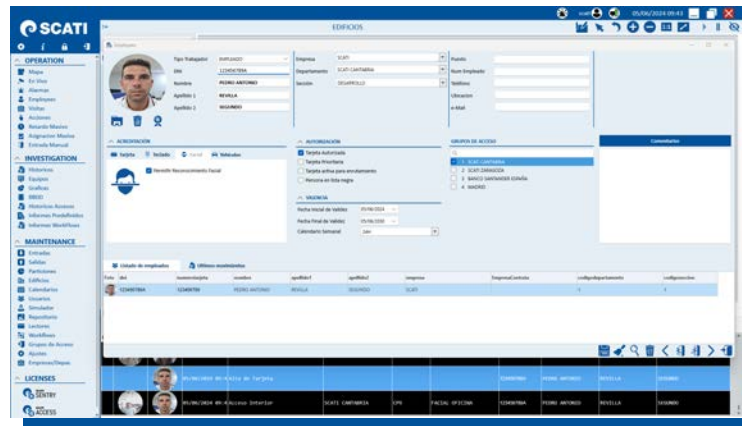

SCATI ACCESS

Access control and visitor management

SCATI ACCESS offers its users a solid, reliable and scalable solution, to protect their installations with maximum guarantees, reducing the possibilities of identity theft and guaranteeing, thanks to the centralized management of all door controllers and readers, that only authorized persons can access authorized areas.

It also has a visitor management module that will allow you to guarantee temporary access to service providers and customers in an easy and secure way.

SCATI SENTRY

System integration platform

SCATI SENTRY is a centralized solution that combines several security elements, such as intrusion and alarm systems, access control devices and video surveillance, as well as allowing for the incorporation of also incorporating automation and intelligent building control systems.

The automation and centralization of security systems and building management systems BMS (Building Management Systems), take operational efficiency to another level. Imagine being able to optimize lighting, HVAC and other resources intelligently. This not only saves money, but also reduces the ecological footprint.

It facilitates the management through the planimetry of the building and integrates with Google Maps and Google Street View, with secure HTTPS (TLS).

Configures automatic responses to specific events, provides events, provides effective incident management tools and generates detailed reports to assess the efficiency of systems, comply with regulatory requirements and optimize internal procedures.

BUSINESS INTELLIGENCE SCATI RECKON

Security as a business driver

Facial recognition

Obtain demographic information of your customers (gender and age) by branch, region, state; identify your VIP customers to offer them the best service, control the access of your employees and eliminate the risk of identity theft, always complying with the current legislation on data protection.

People counting

Know the capacity and saturation of customers in your branches, control the time of stay within a selected perimeter, and find out which days and hours your branches have a greater affluence.

Queue management

Know the number of people in a queue and their waiting time to optimize your branches' resources and offer the best user experience.

LPR (License Plate Reading)

Control vehicle access to your facilities, restrict access to unauthorized vehicles and perform searches by name, number plate and date.

Other analytics

- Heat maps
- Object classification
- Object colour
- Optical Character Recognition (OCR)
- Intrusion
- Stolen object

Integration with ATM operations

Locate suspicious transactions and visualize the person who may be committing fraud.

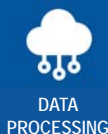

Information and status of servers and cameras

Always know the health status of your recording servers and cameras in your facilities, to activate response protocols in the event of any eventuality that may impact their operation.

Turn your data into decisions

The incorporation of Artificial Intelligence in our systems makes them a transversal and necessary tool for any company. The data, measurements and information from security systems can be used by other areas of the company to optimize procedures, improve customer knowledge or increase the volume of business.

SCATI RECKON aggregates and centrally presents all the metadata collected from the recorders in the offices and ATMs (gender and age of people, entrances, exits, waiting times, etc.).

INTELLIGENCE

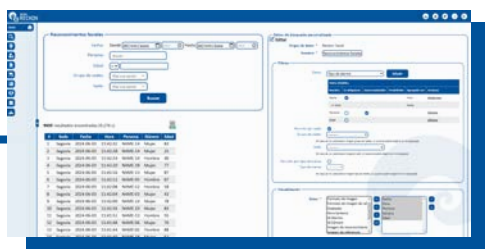

Creation of dashboards

SCATI RECKON allows for the creation of dashboards by aggregating information from our video surveillance systems and video analytics, as well as enabling the integration of data from third-party systems with images from our SCATI VISION recording servers.

Smart search

Enables video searches associated with different fields: gender and age, QR, number plates, ATM transactions, etc. Any user can perform these searches, under a web environment and without the need to install desktop applications on their computers.

Reports

It is possible to generate reports on the hardware characteristics of the recording servers and their software versions, the camera models and configuration data, incidents in the devices and the availability of video in the equipment. Allows integration with other databases related to the business to associate them to the video of the offices and ATMs.

You imagine, we create.

SCATI is a manufacturer of intelligent security solutions specialized in creating solutions tailored to your needs.

Based on trust and proximity, we provide you with the latest technology to solve your real problems, present and future, with the highest levels of cybersecurity.
